My Tomorrow Changed Forever
Everything we do is to prepare and empower people to fully live life with cancer and beyond.

Our experts, specialists, and programs focus on the individual needs of people through every step of cancer – before, during and after treatment.
Dear Friends,

More than 29 years ago, I was drawn to Wellness House to be part of a movement led by caring healthcare professionals who believed cancer was so much more than a physical illness. They were driven by a desire to help patients and their families navigate the social, emotional and psychological minefields that come with a diagnosis but had never been fully addressed. Having lost my mother to cancer as a young adult, I was all in! My tomorrow changed forever when I walked through the door of a small cottage in Hinsdale to provide psychosocial supportive care programs to enhance the quality of life for people affected by cancer. And here I am today, winding down my career at Wellness House, reflecting on our bold plan to increase access to supportive care programs with an emphasis on tackling cancer health disparities in the Chicagoland area.

The landscape of cancer care has profoundly changed since I began my career, and I am happy to report that supportive care programs, like those offered at Wellness House, are now considered an integral part of cancer treatment. With better screening, early diagnosis and significant advances in cancer treatments, more people are living longer with cancer as a part of their history. Today, there are 17 million cancer survivors in the US and by 2029, it is projected to increase to 21.7 million. The story is very different in low income or predominantly African-American or Latino communities where cancer death rates are double the national average. Through our partner locations, we hope to play a role in tackling some of these grim statistics by taking our programs to communities that need them most.

What is true for all cancer patients is the reality that their “tomorrows change forever” upon hearing the words, “you have cancer.” Wellness House exists to educate, support and empower participants so they will improve their physical and emotional well-being. As the number of tomorrows grows with the increase in survivorship, the need for Wellness House services has never been stronger. Without our loyal, generous donors, who ensure that all our programs are provided at no cost, our vision of significantly impacting the lives of people from the day of diagnosis on, would be a dream instead of reality.

As I pass the mantel to my successor, I am aware of an abiding feeling of excitement and enthusiasm for the future of Wellness House. The Board of Directors and Staff have always aimed high and planning for the tomorrows of Wellness House is no different. Thank you for your unwavering generosity, impacting the lives of more that 3,500 people last year. On behalf of Rob Knuepfer, Chairman of the Wellness House Board of Directors, and myself, please accept our deep appreciation for enabling this safe haven we affectionately call Wellness House, along with our sincere hope for your future support and engagement as we continue to make no small plans to improve the quality of life for all people on a cancer journey.

Warmly,

Jeannie Cella, MS, LCPC
President and CEO

Robert C. Knuepfer III
Board Chair
The bottom fell out when I was diagnosed with Stage 4 Hodgkins Lymphoma. We came to Welcome to Wellness House and literally opened the program guide and started going to things. I began going to meditation 3-4 times a week. My husband and I attended the Mind/Science Yoga class and Wellness Through Deep Hypnosis. I feel like I’m healing.”

Johnna - Wellness House Participant

“it’s been spiritual and emotional. I have a completely different focus on what’s important. I went into the mode of being a caregiver. Some men feel they don’t need help. Not me, my wife’s got cancer and I need help!”

Matt - Wellness House Participant

Information and Education

Knowledge is power, but the sheer amount of general oncology-related data can be overwhelming – especially when you are newly diagnosed. At the same time, specialized cancer information can be hard to find, often confined to academic journals that are difficult for laypeople to access or understand.

Our experts stand as the gold standard for definitive, current information. They also provide critical context, so participants can learn how and when to incorporate new information into their lives. Whether participants attend our classes, workshops, or lectures, they emerge feeling stronger, more in control … better equipped to fully live life with cancer and beyond.

Welcome to Wellness House

From the moment you walk into a Welcome to Wellness House orientation, you’ll discover a warm community, evidence-based information and tools that will help you navigate tomorrow.
Nothing really gets me down, but I was actually scared as I was in the thick of it. People didn’t know how sick I was. It helps when you can talk to other people going through it. You can’t really hear what other people are going through or how they can help you by going online. It’s all about community. Life is too short. Get out there and experience it!”

Fleet - Wellness House Participant
Stress Management

Few things in life are more stressful than living with cancer. The tension can consume participants’ days and affect how they eat, sleep, work and play.

But it’s still possible to find peace in the moment and the days that follow. Our stress management programs help people do that through guided meditation, Reiki, painting, flute circle and more. Participants renew their physical, mental, and emotional energy – so they have more strength to devote to healing.

“I was in the hospital for a breast cancer lumpectomy when a therapist told me about Wellness House. I realized I needed to learn a whole new way to survive and live healthy. I started chair yoga, acupuncture, Reiki and then Healing Touch. I have more energy and can look into the future now.”

Seema - Wellness House Participant
“Wellness House is here as you go through different stages of cancer. I attended nutrition, chair yoga, the young adults group and Pink Ribbon Fitness. I realized if I can get through this, I can get through anything.”

Colleen - Wellness House Participant
Exercise and Nutrition

The building blocks of health – exercising and eating well – pose unique challenges to cancer patients from the day of diagnosis and beyond. With new healthy eating and exercise tools, participants can regain a sense of control over their lives, and can reduce the side effects of cancer and its treatment.

Our experts understand how cancer and its treatment can change what is “best” regarding nutrition and exercise: how chemotherapy affects heart health and appetite, for example, and how surgical ports and ostomy bags affect exercise techniques. We offer dozens of cooking and nutrition workshops facilitated by a registered dietitian, as well as over 50 weekly movement offerings, including yoga, Tai Chi, Qi Gong and exercise classes led by oncology exercise specialists.

“For people with cancer, exercising independently is often a challenge. Group classes at Wellness House are an integral part of self-care and help participants stay strong physically and mentally.”

Jadyn Chipman, ACSM GEI, ACSM/ACS CET
Oncology Exercise Specialist
“I feel good when I am at Wellness House because the other kids get it. Sometimes it’s hard to be at school because I feel like no one gets it.”

Wellness House Child Participant
When a family member is diagnosed with cancer, there is a ripple effect of stress and emotions. When the patient is also a parent, there is an added level of complexity. Child and Family Programs at Wellness House provide a safe space and tools to address these complex issues.

Gina Danehl, LCSW
Oncology Child and Family Specialist
Wellness House staff and volunteer leaders began an innovative initiative in 2015 to bring psychosocial support to underserved areas. Generous donors to our 25th anniversary campaign made it possible to expand our impact in the metropolitan Chicago area. In 2019, the largest partnership was launched at Mile Square Health Center. We are now able to serve more people in underserved communities than ever before. We are pleased to report that in just 4 years of identifying and building partnerships, we have served 1,759 people who have made almost 6,000 visits outside the walls of our main location in Hinsdale – all because of the generosity of people like you who support our mission.

Dr. Robert Winn, Associate Vice Chancellor for Community Based Practice at UIC and Director of the University of Illinois Cancer Center

Partnerships

“When I was diagnosed with breast cancer, my life turned upside down and the trajectory of my life changed. I searched online for support and found Wellness House programs in Chicago. My life came to a halt during treatment, but when you’re around people that understand what you’re going through, it’s a totally different ball game.”

Wendy – Participant, Mile Square Health Center
“Our goal is to offer evidence-based psychosocial care to anyone experiencing cancer, which drives us to create partnerships in communities that otherwise would not have access to supportive cancer services.”

Tracy Lester, MS, ACSM/ACS CET, ACE Health Coach, 200RYT
Director of Programs

“Access to Wellness House in their home communities means that many more people impacted by cancer are consistently connecting with the life-changing programming we provide.”

Kelli Mitchell
Community Relations Manager

“Wellness House began offering programs at Mile Square Health Center in January 2019. These supportive programs can shift the cancer journey to one that is empowering and can make a big difference in quality of life.”

Wellness House Functional Expenses (FY 2019)

Although we don’t charge participants for any of the programs that we offer, we know that they have tremendous value to those who are impacted by cancer. Every donation makes a difference.

That is why your support is so vital to our continued efforts to offer these services. We take great care in how we handle our spending.
In FY 2019

- 41,000: number of people served since we opened our doors in 1990
- 36,000: total visits in FY 2019

We use a psychosocial approach based on research, addressing the whole person, socially, emotionally, physically, spiritually and psychologically.

Dr. Steven Cole, Professor of Medicine and Psychiatry and Biobehavioral Sciences in the UCLA School of Medicine, studies the pathways by which social environments influence gene expression in cancer patients. Cole’s research mapped the pathways by which social factors such as exercise, diet, support and stress level affect cancer progression and metastasis after cancer. His research revealed that there is an increased survival rate for people with cancer who receive increased social support. The largest increased survival was shown when people with the most challenging cancers received whole-person care.

In the last 5 years

- 49%: increase in number of individuals who use Wellness House programs
- 44%: increase in annual visits
- 89%: increase in visits to Information and Education programs

Participant Satisfaction

- 96%: rated overall experience with Wellness House as either “Very Good” or “Excellent”
- 97%: rated a high likelihood of recommending Wellness House to another

In FY 2019

- 78%: report moderate or large increase in overall quality of life as a result of attending Wellness House programs
- 470: number of programs offered each month
- Wellness House serves the patients of 445 oncologists and surgeons
- 18,610: number of hours of Exercise and Nutrition programming
